Credit Workload:

This 3-credit course requires 9 hours of student work each week for approximately 16 weeks. Student work include but not limited to: course readings, practice problems, quizzes, exercise activities, online discussions, surveys, mid-term activity and project assignments.

Classroom Ambience:

We will conduct this class in an atmosphere of mutual respect. Everyone is encouraged to actively participate on online discussions. Together, we will strive to create a learning environment where we support diversity of thoughts, perspectives and experiences. This environment will help us to support, learn from each other, and succeed in this course. Your TAs and I will manage the discussions so that ideas, opinions and thoughts are not diverted from the topic of discussion. In case of misconduct or inappropriate behavior, actions will be taken. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Participation:

We expect all of you to participate in all study group discussions, course discussions and activities. We also expect you to complete all course activities on time and participate in all class activities for the duration of the semester. Failure to do all the activities in time might impact your ability to achieve course objectives which could affect your course grade. Missing a course activity, does not relieve you of any course requirement. However, an unexcused course activity may prohibit you from submitting work for credit. Completing regular course activities is a student's obligation, as is a responsibility for all the work of practice labs, exams and project.

The authority to excuse a student's class deadline on any activity and to grant a student an academic accommodation (turn in a late assignment(s), provide extra time on an assignment, reschedule an exam(s) etc.) sits with the Dean of Students Office. The Office will assist faculty members in the verification a student's class absence(s) for documented situation related to medical, psychological, personal crisis, or military absences. All requests should go to the Dean of Students Office. For any other condition, you can contact me as soon as possible with an evidence/document supporting the condition. Opportunities to make up missed points for reasons such as illness, car troubles, family crises, etc. will be decided on a case by case basis.

Inclusivity:

Preferred Name and Gender Pronoun: This course affirms people of all gender expressions and gender identities. If you prefer to be called a different name than what is indicated on the class roster, please let me know. Feel free to correct me on your preferred gender pronoun. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Non-Discrimination: We are all expected to engage with each other respectfully. Unwelcome conduct directed toward another person based upon that person's actual or perceived race, actual or perceived gender, color, religion, age, national origin, ethnicity, disability, or veteran status, or for any other reason, may constitute a violation of University Policy 406, The Code of Student Responsibility. Any student suspected of engaging in such conduct will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for possible conduct action.

Academic Integrity, Plagiarism:

All students are required to read and abide by The Code of Student Academic Integrity. Violations of the Code of Student Academic Integrity, including plagiarism, will result in disciplinary action as provided in the Code. Definitions and examples of plagiarism are set forth in the Code. The Code is available from the Dean of Students Office or online at: <http://legal.uncc.edu/policies/up-407>. The code will be strictly enforced and is binding on the students. Grade and academic evaluations in this course include a judgment that the student's work is free from academic dishonesty of any type; and grades in this course therefore should be and will be adversely affected by academic dishonesty. Students who violate the code can be expelled from UNC Charlotte. The normal penalty for a first offense is zero credit on the work involving dishonesty and further substantial reduction of the course grade. In almost all cases, the course grade is reduced to an F.

Faculty may ask students to produce identification at examinations and may require students to demonstrate that graded assignments completed by them are their own work.

As a condition of taking this course, all required projects and assignments may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to VeriCite (or other similar services, like MOSS or Turnitin) for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted projects will be included as source documents in the service reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such projects. No student papers will be submitted to this service without a student's written consent (http://teaching.uncc.edu/sites/teaching.uncc.edu/files/media/VeriCite/VeriCite Limited Copyright Permission and FERPA Disclosure Consent Form.pdf) and permission. If a student does not provide such written consent and permission, the instructor may require the cover page and first cited page of each reference source to be photocopied and submitted with the final paper.

If you (or someone you know) has experienced or experiences any of these incidents, know that you are not alone. UNC Charlotte has staff members trained to support you in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and more.

Please be aware that many UNC Charlotte employees, including all faculty members, are considered Responsible Employees who are required to relay any information or reports of sexual misconduct they receive to the Title IX Coordinator. This means that if you tell me about a situation involving sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, I must report the information to the Title IX Coordinator. Although I have to report the situation, you will still have options about how your case will be handled, including whether or not you wish to pursue a formal complaint. Our goal is to make sure you are aware of the range of options available to you and have access to the resources you need.

If you wish to speak to someone confidentially, you can contact any of the following on-campus resources, who are not required to report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator: (1) University Counseling Center (counselingcenter.uncc.edu, 7-0311); (2) Student Health Center (studenthealth.uncc.edu, 7-7400); or (3) Center for Wellness Promotion (wellness.uncc.edu, 7-7407). Withdrawals:

Students are expected to complete all courses for which they are registered at the close of the add/drop period. If you are concerned about your ability to succeed in this course, it is important to make an appointment to speak with me as soon as possible. The University policy on withdrawal allows students only a limited number of opportunities available to withdraw from courses. It is important for you to understand the financial and academic consequences that may result from course withdrawal (<https://provost.uncc.edu/policies-procedures/academic-policies-and-procedures/withdrawal-and-cancellation-enrollment-policy>).

Incompletes:

The grade of I is assigned at the discretion of the instructor when a student who is otherwise passing has not, due to circumstances beyond his/her control, completed all the work in the course. The missing work must be completed by the deadline specified by the instructor, and no later than 12 months. If the I is not removed during the specified time, a grade of F, U, or N, as appropriate is automatically assigned. The grade of I cannot be removed by enrolling again in the same course, and students should not re-enroll in a course in which they have been assigned the grade of I. University policy addressing Incompletes.

Student Support:Disability Support Services:

Students in this course seeking accommodations to disabilities must first consult with the Office of Disability Services and follow the instructions of that office for obtaining accommodations.

The Office of Disability Services works with current undergraduate and graduate students along with prospective students to ensure equal access to UNC Charlotte's campus and educational programs.

All services are dependent upon verification of eligibility. Once approved for services, students receive accommodations which are based upon the nature of an individual's disability and documented needs. Students are strongly encouraged to register or check-in for their accommodations with a Disability Services counselor as soon as they have registered for classes. Accommodations are not retro-active and will not begin until the student notifies his or her faculty by providing the Letter of Accommodation.

Please visit the Office of Disability Services at for additional resources, email questions to disability@uncc.edu, or call 704-687-0040 (tty/v) for more information.
